KELLY KHUMALO IS SINGLE AND NOT PREGNANT

Today, Monday 14 November 2016, we were alerted to a Twitter trend, blatantly stating that our client, Kelly Khumalo is pregnant, with Khaya Mthethwa'. We as Kelly Khumalo's Management Agency are taking this allegation very seriously and we will be seeking legal counsel on this matter.

After much research we found that this was posted on a site, which would be categorized under the section satire. What we find even more disturbing is the fact that reputable publications are running with the story as breaking news. We would like to confirm that all the allegations made towards our client have been completely fabricated, as she is currently single and NOT pregnant.

Kelly Khumalo says: "I've been so busy promoting my new album 'My Truth' around the country that I've hardly had time to myself. What I find most concerning are the comments on social media on this fabricated issue particularly from women. In my most recent blog on www.kellykhumalo.live, I talk about how disempowering women are to each other. I raise this issue again of fake feminists and selective women empowerment. It so happens that 1 week after I raised this issue, my name and character get attacked on social media all based on lies that they have read and believe without confirmation of facts. We need to learn to support each other as women or we will never succeed. I would like to categorically state that I am not dating anyone at the moment. Khaya Mthethwa is an industry friend who I happened to take a selfie with at a show we were both working on. I am not pregnant with anyone's child. I have 2 children I love and adore and now focusing on my latest Album "My Truth.
